Three data subjects' rights contain exemptions in favour of the public interest:

Art. 18 II: “Where processing has been restricted under paragraph 1, such personal data shall [...] only be processed [...] for reasons of important public interest of the Union or of a Member State.”

Art. 20 III 2: “That right [data portability] shall not apply to processing necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller.”

Art. 21 VI: “Where personal data are processed for scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes [...], the data subject, [...] shall have the right to object to processing of personal data concerning him or her, unless the processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out for reasons of public interest.”

Further public interest exemptions may be laid down in Union or Member State law (Art. 23 GDPR).
